Dr. Connie Shemo

History Department

Speaking on

“Warriors, Frogs, Snow Queens and Mermaids: Changing U.S.-China relations through the lens of Disney Princess Movies”

Disney films are a major part of American cultural exports. With the rise of the "Princess Franchise" in 2005, Disney princess movies have become an especially important cultural export. This talk will focus on five particular movies: Mulan, Princess and the Frog, Frozen and the sequel, Frozen 2, and the 2023 Little Mermaid and use these movies as a lens to look at changing U.S. - Chinese relations, and how many in China engage with U.S. culture. While the focus will be on these movies, Dr. Shemo will also comment on the reception of princess movies in China more generally.
