

The Institute for Ethics in Public Life presents

“Can Capitalism Be Ethical?”

Wed. Apr. 10 at 3:30 in person or on Zoom (see below)

Since the mid-nineteenth century, capitalism has been criticized on ethical grounds. From Marx and Dickens to Piketty and movements like Occupy Wall Street, critics have argued that social ills like poverty, inequality, and environmental degradation are all intrinsic to capitalism.

We welcome Prof. Wanda Carroll, Lecturer in Supply Chain Management and International Business, to the Institute to help us discuss this important topic. This forum is an opportunity for students, faculty, administrators, staff, alumni, and community members to come together and consider the extent to which the critiques of capitalism have merit.

Join us in person in Hawkins 233 (the Institute offices) or on Zoom at <https://plattsburgh.zoom.us/j/91516377402>
