The SUNY Plattsburgh Institute for Ethics in Public Life presents
"Intellectual Property and AI"
Apr. 30 (W) at 3:30 in person or on Zoom (see below)

The new "generative" AIs raise important issues relating to intellectual property. Many are "trained" using data from the internet, much of which is protected intellectual property. Is this "fair use"? Or is it a violation of the property rights of the creators of that material?

At the other end, if an AI creates something, who has intellectual property rights to the output? The person prompting the AI? The corporation running it? No one?

Are our laws protecting intellectual property adequate for this new era, or do they need to be updated?

We welcome special guest Prof. John Chambers, Department of Communication Studies, to help us understand this important topic. This forum is an opportunity for students, faculty, administrators, staff, alumni, and community members to come together and learn about this issue.

Join us in person in Hawkins 233 (the Institute offices) or on Zoom at https://plattsburgh.zoom.us/j/82350596253
