

It has become clear now that the models of manhood used in the past are fading, worn-out, and often no longer useful. Most of us know that the definition of a man we learned in high-school, or the military, or on the sports fields of the macho man, the dominant man, and the conquest-driven man do not work in our rapidly-changing world. The negative side is obvious: exploitation of the earth, devaluation and humiliation of women, and obsession with money and war.

Journey into Manhood

*The gender mythologies of our culture are defective – they ignore masculine depth of feeling, assign men a place in the sky instead of on earth, teach obedience to the wrong powers, work to keep some groups of men boys, and entangle both men and women in systems of capitalist domination. This course will explore new visions of what a man is, or may become, and help students build skills to enact those visions.
